VOICES OF THE SOUTH. SPEECHES BEFORE THE SOUTHERN SOCIETY OF NEW YORK.

GRAND AFFAIR LAST NIGHT

Remarks of Vice-President Morton, Chaun-cey M. Depew, Mr. Henry W. Grady and Governor Gordon.

the new sumptuously appointed home of the New York Southern society, at No. 18 West Twenty-fifth street, took place tonight in the form of a grand banquet and retion. All the southern people of prominence called here by the centennial celebranence caned here by the centennial celebra-tion were present, in addition to a long list of New York officials and prominent men. At the banquet, at which President John C. Calhoun presided, the toast list was entirely formal, and was arranged to include an address from the govor of each of the southern states present, in the order in which the states were admitted the union. Following an opening address by President Calhoun. THE ORDER OF SPEECHES arranged for were as follows: Vice-President Levi P. Morton, Chauncey M. Depew, Henry W. Grady, Governor Briggs of Delaware, Jackson of Maryland, Governor Gordon of Georgia, Governor Richardson of South Carolina, Governor Lee of Virginia, rnor Fowle of North Carolina, Governor Buckner of Kentucky, and Colonel Hancock of Texas. The dining rooms were tastefully decorated with bunting and choice exotics. The representative southern people present other than mentioned in the list of speakers included, Senators John W. Daniel, of Virginia; M. C. Butler, of South Carolina; the Virginia commissione Colonel Walter H. Taylor, Judge W. W. Camp, Judge Walter Steples, Major Holmes Conrad Ey-Congressman Randolph Tucker. Senator Wade Hampton, of South Carolina; General Charles Anderson, Colonel Sam'l Watt, and Colonel Charles Cowardin, of Governor Lee's staff; and Colonels Markley, Maxweil, Brown, Gleason and McGowen, of the staff of Governor Richardson, of South Caro-lina. The others present included General Anson P. McCook, Charles Smith, president of the New York chamber of commerce,

Colonel Elliott F. Shepherd, Calvin S. Brice, Chief Justice Charles P. Daly, Fred R. Coudert, Judge Bookslaver, George Rutledge Gibson, Wm. L. Trenholm, Wm. P. St. John, Ballard Smith and Colonel

Norvin V. Randolph. PRESIDENT CALHOUN, IN HIS OPENING ADDRESS, said that ever since the offort, was first made to establish, in the great metropolis, a society of southern men, the residents had all looked forward to the time when the society would rejoice in a home of its own. At last that hope was realized. He knew that he expressed the sentiment of every member of the society when he said that the one he would have been proud to welcome beyond all others at the last warming, was the president of the Un States, wlo, however, was unable to be present in consequence of imperative official duties. "The president desired me," Mr. Calhoun continued, "to convey to you his regret, and with his earnest and best wishes for the society's welfare. But I am glad to say," he continued, "that among cany guests who have honored us with their presence is our distinguished vice-president. With us, too, are the governors of nearly all the southern states. To all our guests we extend a cordial southern welcome.

I again welcome you," President Calhoun concluded, "at this auspicious time-the centennial of our government-to our home, which, while it is a home of southern men, is the home of patriotism, of fealty to the government, of loyalty to the flag and of devotion Vice-President Morton. was introduced as the first speaker. He said that when the president of the society called upon him at Washington and extended him the opening of the new clubhouse he had said that he had a previous engagement, but that he would come on condition that he would not be called upon to make a speech. I thank you," the vice-president continued, "for the invitation and desire to join with my good friend Depew, in congratulating the society in establishing a home in the city of New York. You have witnessed the cordiality extended by the city of New York to the visitors to the centennial, and I trust will, in this, your southern home, extend to strangers a like welcome. I thank you for the warmth of your reception, and leave it to Depew to do

Mr. Depew Speaks. Mr. Depew was greeted with a famous cheer. He said that he had never been more impressed with the fact that the home and inspiration of oratory lay in the south than by the speech that had just been made by the vice-president of the United States. "W here in New York," said he, "as republicans, have been trying for twenty-five years to get a very first time you get him before your society. out comes a burst of eloquence that shows the vice-president to be following in the footsteps of Clay, Calhoun and Webster. the most eloquent speech Mr. Morton ever made was to me. Said he: 'Depew, if I were you, I would not accept a nomination for the presidency.' I took his advice, and left New York open for the vice-presidential nomination. I am credited with being a quick-sighted man, but I never saw into that matter until after the election. If a young an wants to get on in this life, he had better be a banker, not a lawyer." Mr. Depew said. referring to the centennial celebration, that New York loved the stranger. and leved to take them in. The real significance of the centennial celebration was as yet little understood by any of us. It would be better understood by the orator one hundred years hence. Depew spoke eloquently in brief, on the meaning of the cen-tennial festivities. Passing to the relation of the north and south, he said as treasurer of the national confederate soldiers home, that nine-tenths of the subscribers had been in the northern army. The remainder of Depew's speech was in his best humorous style. Pro-

Mr. Henry W. Grady Speaks.
Following Mr. Depew, Henry W. Grady, of Georgia, was introduced. He received an ovation. Mr. Grady said: Mr. President and Gentlemen: I say with all reverance that I have never seen a man whose speech so belied his words as my friend (Depew), who said that eloquence had its home in the south, and then made the speech that you have just beard [applause], unless, indeed, he can prove, as I hope he can, that he is a Georgian, rather than a New York Dutchman. [laughter. As for myself, and only begin by saying that there was once a man who had a son John living in East once a man who had a son John living in East India. He got a telegram one day reading: "John was killed yes erday" He immediately answered: "Ship his remains by first steamer." In about a month a box was delivered to him, after opening which he cabled the following: "Box received containing a tiger, but not John." Whereupon he received this reply: "John inside of tiger."

We get no further commentaries upon the character of John than is contained in that brief and laconic message. But I am sure that, after I have been through the surging, enthusiastic and hitarious crowds of the city during the past three days, that I can understand how John feit when he was packed ready for shipment. I am sure that George Weshing-ton, nor any of his compatriots, never went through so much tuniult and excitement to join the first in auguration, as I have endured for the purpose of taking my part in the celebration of its first centra-

A PLAIN GEORGIA CRACKER with not a "Van" nor a "De" before my name, ex-cept an "O," which I have lost during the evolution of time. You will understand, therefore, gentlemen, the earnestness with which I desire to leave these scenes of excitement and bustle, to get away to my beloved and now doubly dear southern home. But what southerner could overlook an invitation from this society? You are my people, and to me your every wish is law. My heart fills to everslowing tought with pride and appiness, and I look upon many familiar faces that tearfully bade farewell to the wasted and wrecked fields of Georgia shortly after the war to come to the metropolis of the north and cross swords in the arena of commerce with the greatest warriors. They asked no favors and received none, but began the battle for a new beginning which they have won so successfully and honorably. I am glad that you have at last built for yourself a permanent home, and that I have had the honor and opportunity of being present at its dedication, and to help you consecrate it. I am sure that it will have eloquence, sumptions appointments, and, better than all, here will be established as your household god forever, that love of country, of women and of liberty, that can never perish. I wish I could quit right here. (Cries of "D5n't"). To tollow my illustrious friend, Depen, to have slong in the path of a meteor. I am glad that he got back from the war. I never know before what it was kept us from whipping them earlier. I am glad that he came out of the service able to express the continents of an old friend of mine; "Well, I killed as many of them as they did of me." But, gentlemen, there is one thing that I must say that is appropriate to this occasion, and that is (impressively), "I love this country." [Great applause.] I was taught to love it by applause.] I was taught to love it by my father, though he gave his life to Georgia when she asked if at his hands. Howe it because it is my country, and because it stands proudly and gloriously in the light while other nations are crowded and grasping in the dark. How it because my state stood by when the flag took on its fifth star. not then entered to help defend the newly-born republic and then entered to help defend the newly-born republic and then we one hundred years after. public, and that now one hundred years after-

BETTER AND MORE UNITED SUPPORT than she gave when she was one of but five states As much as I revered this government, I have never appreciated its matchless beauty as I have during the past three days. I rode with my son once a long while ago, when we were poor in the south, from Washon to New York, and while the little fellow was curled up in my arms he said: "Papa, what do you want me to do when I get to be a man?" I said, "My son, I want you to give your life to the service ntry until Georgia blossoms as Pennsylvania does today."

Mr. Grady then considered the young men of the south, whom, he said, were winning golden opinions from all sorts of people by the energetic and business-like way in which they were rejuvenating affairs in the south, and making it the "new south," of which any country would be proud. I must now conclude, as I have to catch a late train tonight for home. I envy the pleasure you are to enjoy in listening to sentiments from distinguished southern governors who are with us.

Governor Gordon Speaks. Governor Gordon then said: Mr. Ghairman and Gentlemen: In the few moments allowed to me, it is impossible to respond in fitting terms to the sentiment just proposed. I can do nothing more than to express my thanks to can do nothing more than to express my thanks to my cloquent friends for the unmerited tribute paid me, and suggest one or two thoughts evoked by the centennial occasion that convenes, through their executives, the states of the union. Georgia's position in this sisterhood of states is both interesting and unique. She was the youngest of the thirteen original colonies which formed the union. She is, therefore, the honored link in the family circle between the old and the new common wealths of the republic. Aland the new common wealths of the republic. Although for a brief period that link was severed, yet her love for her sisters and for the birthright of the freedom which all inharited, has straiged the separation Georgia and her southern sisters have never lost for a day or hour their devo-tion and loyalty to republican government and constitutional freedom, which had united all in a common effort and aspiration a hundred years ago. Like an electrical current, which will leap across a break in the wire and follow its course, so the spirit of 1789 thrilled through all the states, even during the period of separation of war. Georgia's heart at this hour throbs with the same proud memories that pulsate in the heart of New York, and she rejoices that this great state, whose glorious history is the common heritage of all, and whose hospitality is as boundless as the great ocean which washes her shores, was, by historical right, the leader in this grand centennial move-ment. Georgia's hopes are higher and her confidence firmer in the future concord of the whole American people' because of the commemoration of the great event which has just convened the states and people in this American metropolis. Will these hopes prove fillusive, and is the confidence based upon a founlation of sand, to be swept away in a cyclone of passion at the next presidential election?

I trust not. I trust that the men who were here and the people who were at home all over this ntry, will find their patriotism, deepened and roadened by a contemplation of the great event which we have just celebrated. I plty the man whose spirit, at a time like this, does not thrill and revel in the thought that this is his country—all of it his country—Georgia as well as New York—South Carolina as well as Massachusetts—Maine and California and Texas—all—all—his country, and their people his kindred as well as his countrymen.

I pity the man who, looking back over the cenfails to have his spirit glow with pride as he studies every chapter of its history, embracing every section of his country, even that chapter though written in blood from 1861 to 1865. I tuter a great truth, and one which the future will yet make plain to the apprehension of posterity, that through all the dust and smoke of that bitter sectional con-flict, through all the tears and blood that was shed, through all the passions that were evoked, and with that which were endured, the eye that is clear and the mind that is just can plainly discern an unfaltering love of liberty, which our fathers jointly achieved, and an unabated devotion to constitutional republic, which they jointly established. But I have been beguited by thoughts which crowd 1-pon me into a consumption of too much of your time, and I conclude with a single remark. If I may be permitted a figure drawn from the statue of liberty, whose uplifted flame lights your incomparable harbor. I would say that u-jon this centennial occasion, we should build a political lighthouse grounded on the rock of the consitual confidence, to throw its light over land and sea, that we may avoid the reefs u-jon which the happiness of the people and the stablity of mations are stranded, wrecked and lost; a political lighthouse whose quenchless flame shall not only serve to guide the American people to all political truths and a true basis for real unity, but shall also guide the struggling peoples of the world in their onward or fathers jointly achieved, and an unabated devothe struggling peoples of the world in their onward march to freedom.

BUCK AND DOW STILL IN THE FIGHT. Dr. Arnold Trying to Prove That He Did Not Wear Petticoats During the War -A Democratic Contribution.

WASHINGTON, May 2. - [Special. ] - Th resident and Attorney-General Miller had a long conference today relating to the unfilled offices in Georgia. The question of the marshalship was discussed at some length, when it was agreed that the matter should be taken up and disposed of within the next three weeks. Colonel Buck attended the centennial. He will now stay until the question of his appointment is settled, though whether it is to be him or Dow no one knows. Since Freeman has placed on file in the department, affidavits setting forth the fact that he is no longer identified with the manufacture of whisky, having sold his inter st in his distillery, his chances for receiving the place has materially increased, and the opinion prevails with a majority of the Georgia contingent here that Freeman will receive the appoint-

Dr. Arnold has for the past three days been busily engaged in filing refutations against the charges which have been made against him, charging him with having worn petticoats in escaping from Columbus during the war.

Postmaster-General Wanamaker said today that he was inclined to look favorably upon the proposition to appoint Colonel Locke postmaster at Columbus. There is already being made quite a good sized fight on Locke by those who are opposed to his appointment.
Attorney-General Miller said today that he believed the president was favorable to the appointment of Judge Craig, of Selma, to the district attorneyship for the northern district of Alabama. If Craig is made attorney, then Gsneral James E. Slaughter, of Mobile, will be made marshal, and it is not improbable that General Slaughter will be made marshal anyhow. A DEMOCRATIC CONTRIBUTION. Funds are being collected for the presiden tial campaign of 1892. The opening of the campaign so long in advance seems to give promise of the reign of boodle in 1892. If the republicans have opened a campaign fund it has not yet been heard from. But the methods of the republicans are dark at all times, and they do not, like the denrocrats, report openly to the world what they are doing. The workers of the republican party are probably too busy now scrambling for the prizes which they labored for or paid for last November to devote much attention to 1892. Nicholas M Bell, of Missouri, who was superintendent of the foreign mails under Cleveland, has resigned his position and retired. On March 4 he made the first subscription to the demo-cratic campaign fund for 1892, by determining to devote to that purpose all the salary he should receive from the public treasury after that date. His determination was made pub-lic and soon thereafter Postmaster-General

Wanamaker accepted his resignation, to take effect yesterday. Mr. Bell's subscription to the democratic campaign fund is therefore limited to about sixty days' salary at about $10 per day. Before leaving the city to-day Mr. Bell said that he had sent his check for that amount to Mr. Canday, of New York city, who was treasurer of the last democratic campaign fund. Mr. Bell's example, it is said, has been followed by other ardent democrats who are auxious to see the party triumph in 1892. A Cause For Grief. It seems that the republicans of Maryland are very wrathy over the retention in office of Calvin Gorman, a brother of the senator whom President Cleveland appointed as inspector of customs. Not long ago he was written a letter informing him that his services would be no longer required, but some influence was brought to bear on Secretary Windom, and about a week ago the letter was withdrawn. Mr. Gorman is still drawing $4 a day, and Mr. Mudd and Mr. McComas are exhibiting con-siderable wrath at the procedure.

It is said that ex-Senator Davis, a cousin of Mr. Gorman, and a warm personal friend of Mr. Windom, has had something to do with the retention of the inspector. It is hinted by the stalwarts of Maryland to effect Mr. Gorman's final removal from office.

THE YELLOW FEVER.

Agents for the Steamship Lines Discredit

the Report of the Disease on the Weser. Baltimore, May 2.-Agent Atkinson, of the North-German Lloyd line, when called upon this morning, discredited the report that vellow fever had infected the steamer Weser at Bremen. He knew nothing about the cargo she brought to this port on her last trip, but did not think the steamer had anything on board which would breed contagion. He thought be of a mild character, and was inclined to think the report was greatly exaggerated, but still he shook his hoad when his attention was called to the fact that the report of deaths was telegraphed to the Lloyd's London agency by the Berlin agent of the North-German line. President Von Lingen, of the company, wa also inclined to discredit the report. He said the Weser, when she left Baltimore, was in first-class sanitary condition.

DO NOT BELIEVE IT. Several shipping merchants, who were shown the dispatch from the Lloyds concerning yellow fever on the Weser, were much surprised at the report. They were of the opinion that the disease was some milder form of disease than "yellow jack," and could not see how the vessel could have gotton the fever aboard at this port.

The North German Lloyd company has another line of vessels which run from Bremen to points on the Indian ocean and in the south Pacific; also the Australian line. If the cargo from one of these steamers which touch at tropical ports was transhipped to the Weser, yellow fever germs may have been lurking in it. On her last voyage the stricken vessel en' countered intense cold, the thermometer being at zero more than once. This would have prevented the immediate development of disease and the deadly microbes could have hibernated in her hold until favorable condition for calling them into activity occurred.

WILL IT SPREAD.

The 1,300 and odd immigrants the Weser In 4,300 and oad immigrants the weser landed in this city from April 12th to April 15th, were undoubtedly exposed to infection during the voyage from Bremen here, for the ship could not have become infected in Baltimore, and it will be a matter of interest, not only to the health authorities of Baltimore, but those of cities throughout the country to have whether the harges and clothing of but those of cities throughout the country to know whether the baggage and clothing of these hundreds of people, who are by this time scattered over a dozen states, is infected with the dreaded plague. The question before them is, have yellow fever germs been sown broadcast over the land to lie dormant until some favorable heat and bad sanatation calls them into fatel activity. There is little danger. them into fatal activity. There is little danger of infection being imported into the country in this way and without doubt a little caution will avert any cause for alarm even among the

A JUMP FOR LIFE

Excitement at a Fire in Philadelphia-The Peril of Two Brothers. PHILADELPHIA, May 2.—The four-story stone building attached to the Catholic col lege, on East Shelter avenue, east of Magdalen street, Germantown, was burned at an early hour this morning, The building was used for storage and cooking purposes and it is supposed that the fire originated from a cook range on the first floor, and in a few minutes the entire building was in flames.

THE WILDEST EXCITEMENT PREVAILED among the students in the college adjoining, for it was known that Ignatus and Michael Kemmerl were in the third story of the burning building. Presently the two men appeared at a window and Michael jumped to the ground. His brother was about to follow him when the flooring gave way under him and he sank into a burning mass of debris. Michael was badly injured by his jump and it is thought he will die.

The loss of the burned building has not yet

The loss of the burned building has not yet been ascertained, but it is understood to be fully covered by insurance.

Ignatius Kemmerle was 85 years old, and his brother was over 70. The total loss will exceed $5,000. The physicians now say that Michael Kemmerle's injuries are not so bad as at first reported, and they have hopes of sav-ing his life.

office, as he believes, with the county democrats, that his term does not rightfully expire until 1891, as Mayor Hewitt appointed him to succeed General Newton for the latter's unexpired term, the duration of which term it would be for the courts to decide. The Tammany men hold that the term expired at midnic hit exactly on Tuesday.

Immediately after being sworn in Mr. Girrey, accompanied by his legal advisers, went to the department of public works and made a formal demand for possession and the books of the office. Mr. Smith handed him a written refusal, as follows:

I refuse to comply with the demand you make for possession of this office and its books and papers, because my term of office has not exaited, and I now repeat to you the offer I have heretofore made to Mayor Grant to su, mit any question there may be as to my right to continue in possession of this office to adjudication of the courts by agreement in manner presoribed by law so that it may be finally decided by the court of appeals prior to the first of July next."

Later Mr. Gilroy's counsel obtained from the supreme court an order directing Mr. Smith to show cause why he should not vacate the office. The order is returnable on Monday next.

THE INDIANS OUT.

Geronimo's Men Again Making Trouble in New Mexico. Silver City, N. M., May 2.—[Special.]— There has been considerable excitement here to be you account of the reported outbreak of the Apaches from the San Carlos reservation. Last Saturday the foreman of the Head and Heart ranch was shot through the legs, and then reasted to death on a store where he was preparing a meal. It was believed that he was murdered by a remnant of Geronimo's bund, which has been out since Geronimo's outbreak in' May 1888. Last night it was reported that two men had been killed by Indians near Black Hawk, but the report has since been denied. An engineer on the Southern Pacific reports having seen thirty or forty Indians cross the track. The Indians are undoubtedly out, but it is impossible at this time to ascertain even approximately the number. There may not be more than twenty, and it is possible that there may be ten time that number. The troops at Fort Bayard were ordered out today, and a lively time is anticipated. Couriers went out in all directions today to warn people of the dauger, so they might come in with their families to a place of east. There has been considerable excitement here warn people of the danger, so they might come in with their families to a place of safety.

TROOPS CALLED OUT TO QUELL IT. A Right Lively Story About a Battle, But the Whole Thing is Denied by the Mexicans-Other News.

St. Louis, May 2.-The following description of a mob and riot which occurred at Laluz, near Guanajuato, Mexico, a few days ago over the incarceration of five Jesuit priests who were stirring up the ignorant people against the government, is given by a prominent citizen of Guanajuato who reached here yesterday:

It was nearly dark when the priests were imprisoned, but by the time the street lamps were lighted 12,000 men roared and surged against the walls of the jail. They attacked its heavy doors with pickaxes, stones, crowbars and heavy beams of wood, and some of them in wild frenzy dashed their bleeding hands and heads against the massive walls. Many of them were armed, and in a short

THE MAYOR SLAIN. The mayor of Guanajuato, who was inside, was among the first to fall. Policemen, who rushed up in squads of two and three, were remorselessly butchered, and in a short time more than twenty of them were lying dead on the pavement. A few scattered soldiers who were in town were treated in a like manner. The mob, which by this time was utterly unmanageable, either by the government or priests, who had incited it, now set fire to the jail doors, but just as the inmates were about to surrender, two hundred regular soldiers arrived in a double quick and formed across the streets. The mob answered the order to disperse with a yell and discharge of firearms. The command to fire was at once given Bullets at a fearful short range swept through the mass of women, men and children like a scythe, mowing them down in rows. Still they came on, and volley after volley crashed into them, only to cause those behind to spurn the dead bodies with their feet as they pressed forward.

and the shallow gutters ran with it. In the meantime a number of insurgents, armed with pistols and rifles, had climbed upon adjoining ouses and soldiers began to drop one by one. After a half hour's continuous fighting, a charge with bayonet was ordered. When the front rank of the mob fell, the entire concourse broke and disappeared through alleys and byways. Altogether more than 250 persons had been slain, by far the greater part of whom were miners and other Mexican laborers. The soldlers lost sixteen killed and wounded. Among the slain was a lieutenant.

REMOVAL OF THE PRIESTS. The fire in the jail was quenched and the five badly frightened but determined priests were taken to Guanajuato for safe keeping. They are now confined in Castello de Grandetas, an immense pile in which the great Mexican revolution had its birthday and in which the patriot, Hidalgo, was subsequently hauged. It is thought that had the recent riot proven successful, had the priests been rescued and the local authority broken, a serious uprising might have developed. As it is the incipient revolution is nipped in the bud.

Taliaferro.

BIRMINGHAM, May 2 .- [Special.]-Hon. E. T. Taliaferro today closed the argument for the defense in the Hawes murder trial, in a five hours speech, pronounced by the bar and public the most eloquent and logical ever heard in this city. So forcible and eloquent was the speech that several jurors and many spectators were time and again moved to tears. The effect of the speech cannot possibly be greater on the jury than it has been on the public. It has greatly modified the public feeling against Hawes, and many people now believe he will be acquitted. Colonel Taliaferro's argument was directed mainly to exposing the conflict in the testimony. He insisted that no man had ever been convicted on circumstantial evidence where it was so conflict ing as in this case. Solicitor Hawkins will close the argument tomorrow, and the case will go to the jury in the afternoon.

SATURATED WITH OIL. Ben Addison Arrested on a Serious Charge in Birmingham.

Birmingham.

Birmingham.

Birmingham, Ala., May 2.—[Special.]—Ben Addison, a well-known and popular young man, who ran a billiard room in the Palace Royal hotel block, was arrested this morning Royal hotel block, was arrested this morning charged with attempting to set fire to the building. A door opens from the billiard room into the saloon, and when the barkeeper opened up this morning he found coal oil all over the floor of the billiard room and a lighted candle in a beer glass filled with oil. The candle had burned almost to the oil when it was discovered. Paper saturated with oil had been placed under the tables. About one hundred people were sleeping in the hotel. It was learned that Addison had his fixtures well insured, and that they were advertised to be sold under mortgage on the 23d inst., and he was arrested on suspicion. He says he can prove an alibi.

HE WAS A GOOD MAN, But Circumstances Necessitated His Speedy Departure.

Departure.

Sandwich, Mass., May 2.—The community here is considerably stirred up over the mysterious disappearance of Samuel Fessenden, treasurer of the Cape Code Canal company, who left town about two weeks ago, since which time nothing is known here concerning his whereabouts. He was also treasurer of the Unitarian church, and at the time he went away had in his possession funds belonging to the Episcopal church. The money of the Cape Cod Canal company is all gone, and Fessenden has left behind him a large number of unpaid bills and notes, which are not provided for. Search is now being made for him, but so far it has been unsuecessful. His family has also disappeared, and no one here knows where they are. This will probably be the end of the Cape Cod canal enterprise for the present at least. enterprise, for the present at least.

Dever, May 2.—Last week the widow of Colonel J. A. Greenelow received information that the grave of her husband had been robbed of the body and she could gain possession of the remains by paying a ransom of several thousand dollars. Detectives were at once put on the case, and this evening Chief Lenton arrested R. Greeneweld, F. R. Shinn, Mrs. F. R. Shinn, W. O. Bacon and J. C. McCoy. The thieves had drawn up an agreement, which all had signed, requiring the utmost secrecy and thieves had drawn up an agreement, which all had signed, requiring the utmost secrecy and promising death to any one who should give information regarding the robbery. This was found on the person of one of the men. One of the thieves made a full confession, and there is but little doubt of their guilt. One of the prisoners is a prominent grocery dealer, and the others are well-known. The body of. THE PARNELL COMMISSION. Mr. Parnell Still on the Stand-The Day's Proceedings.

London, May 2.—The cross examination of Mr. Parnell was continued before the Parnell commission today. Mr. Parnell admitted that Condon was connected with the Manchester murders. He was chairman of the reception committee at Washington. The witness had always repudiated the dynamite and physical force party in America, and denounced them in the house of commons. He was not aware that the Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette re-ported verbatim the speech he made at Cincinnati, at which he is said to have referred to the severance of the last link of Great Britain and Ireland, or that its report was like that in the Irish World. Mr. Parnell admitted that he had not found fault with the past action of the invincibles. He quoted from his speech and his manifesto of 1881, denouncing outrage and unconstitu-tional action by Irishmen.

AGAINST LANDLORDISM.

Mr. Parnell said he advocated buying out the landlords in Ireland and making the tenants owners of land.

The cross examination of Mr. Parnell proceeded through a mass of detail, and was aimed to connect him with the Fenians, and also to show that he must have known of the plots to compute nursier.

plots to commit murder.

Nothing, however, was elicited from the witness to show that he was in any way con-nected with the Fenians, or that he had any knowledge of murderous conspiracies.

Attorney General Webster cited menacing speeches made by W. Redmond. Mr. Parnell listened to the attorney general and remarked that old heads could not be put on young shoulders.

EXTRACTS FROM HIS SPEECHES.

Again pressed by counsel as to whether he had ever denounced outrages, Mr. Parnell read extracts from speeches delivered him in 1889, such as "Let us rer within the law and the constitution." "Hope the people will not be tempted to imitate the violence and illegal attitude of the government. The league is perfectly peaceable and constitutional, and there is nothing behind it."

Mr. Parnell further said that in 1880 he de-Mr. Parnell further said that in 1880 he denounced the shooting of agents as unnecessary and prejudicial, where there was a suitable league organization, but admitted that such denunciation was insufficient to stop such outrages. WASHINGTON, May 2.- The interstate com merce commission today took up the case of the firm of James & Abbott, of Boston, Mass., complain-ant against the East Tennessee. Virginia and Georgia railroad company, the Norfolk and Western railroad company, Shenandoah Valley railroad company, Cumberland Valley railroad company, Pennsylvania railroad company, New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad company, and the

New York and New England railroad company, and the New York and New England railroad company. A. B. Paine, of Boston, Mass., appeared in behalf of the complainants, and W. M. Baxter in behalf of the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia company. The charge involved in this complaint is that these railroad companies violated the long and short haul clause of the interstate commerce law by charging more for shipping lumber from Johnson City, Tenn., then from Atlanta, Ca., although the former place is several hundred miles nearer Boston than the latter. Also, that the defendants charged as much for a haul from Johnson City to Boston as from Macon, Ga., the latter place being much further from Boston than the

Mr. Baxter then rend at length the answer of defendants to the complaint of petitioner, acknowledging the difference in rates charged by asserting that it was due to water competition and was instituded on other grounds.

Mr. Princ, in behalf of the complainant, had no witnesses to testify, but he read several depositions which denied that competition for traffic north existed between all rail and rail and water routes before Georgia seaports and points in New England. In reply to this, Mr. Baxter, in behalf of the company, presented several witnesses who testified concerning the prevailing rates of rail and water rates, respectively and the condition and amount of business handled by the East Tennessee company from the cities of Atlanta and Johnson City. They asserted that considerable competition existed for the shipment of lumber by land and water, and justified the action of the rail-road company in charging different rates on the grounds of difference in the quality of material shipped and for other reasons peculiar to railroad trailic. Counsel for both sides then argued the case, at the conclusion of which the commission took it under consideration. Mr. Baxter then read at length the answer of

FORT VALLEY, May 1, 1889 .- Editors Con-Posit Valley, May I, 1883.—Editors con-stitution: I notice in your issue of this date that President Bagley, of the Americus Investment company, has notified the stockholders of the Georgia improvement company that unless action is had on their proposition at an early date they shall feel at liberty to permanently withdraw the ainly would result disastrously to the stockholders tainly would result disastrously to the stockholders of our company. We all know that before this proposition was submitted to our company, our stock could not be sold on the market for ten cents in the dollar, and today is worth three or four times that price. Now, upon a withdrawal of this proposition, who can doubt its having a depressing effect upon its market value? And we could not blame President Bagley should be see proper to withdraw. I am only surprised at his not giving such notice sooner.

I think I understand his proposition in all of its details, having given the matter much thought, and I am confident that it is the best proposition for our company being discussed, and promises to the Georgia Improvement stockholder the largest return for his money.

With the extension of the Atlanta and Florida railroad from Fort Valley to Cordele, and the councetions made there with the Georgia Southern and Florida and the Savannah, Americus and Montgomery railroad, as contemplated by this plan, there can be but little doubt that our road will be largely increased in value, and the large amount of business secured by such connection will enable the road to carn an interest charge on $1.500 per mile the first year it is in operation. We will not have to wait for the development of business, it is already developed and ready for this connection. While the plan proposed is eminently practicaof our company. We all know that before this

While the plan proposed is eminently practicable and would secure the best results for our company, yet I admit there is serious trouble in carrying out the deal, as its terms and conditions require substantially the unanimous action of our stockholders. The trouble is in getting this unanimity of action. Unfortunately for the plan, as well as for our stockholders, divisions have sprung up in the company. Our leading men are divided upon the several plans being discussed. (I say being discussed meaningly for there is but one proposition before the company). It is believed by many that these oniside plans were sprung just at this time to bring about divisions in our ranks. And I will state that if this be true, the status of matters evidences the fact that they have succeded in their purpose most admirably. And I think the condition of our matters should excite some alarm, as to ultimate results of our inaction, brought about through divisions among ourselves.

There is much danger of our unnecessarily, seath.

divisions among ourselves.
There is much danger of our unnecessarily geerificing our stock upon the "rock of division," when by unity of action much, if not all, of our money might be saved. There is good value in our propof unity of action much, if not all, of our money might be savel. There is good value in our property, if we only give it the necessary support and the needed money to develop it. We have constructed our road through the most expensive portion of our line, and the line or extension to Cordele can be built for at least twenty per cent less per mile than the cost of the completed portion of our road; but this will avail us nothing, unless unity and harmony prevails among us. Some say they can't subscribe to this plan, for the want of the cash money to pay for the new stock, while some refuse who are evidently playing a block game to exact an undue value for their stock. Such course persisted in will certainly not only result in wrecking their own holdings, but also that of those willing to subscribe to save themselves from loss. The company should call another stockholders meeting and see if some plan cannot be devised for carrying out the Americas deal at once, or to abandon the idea altogether.

Like President Bagby, I am growing impatient, and unless something definite is soon done, I shall sell my stock for what I can get and dismiss the whole matter from my mind. Respectfully,

The Sarannah, Americus and Montgomery.

The Savannah, Americus and Montgomery. The Savannah, Americus and Montgomery Railway company has filed a general mortgage or deed of trust in the probate court at Montgomery, which would indicate that the read is going there, The deed covers thirty papers of typewriting, and has been recorded in every county through which it is proposed to run the road from Savannah to the Alabama line. It is for the sum of $1,100,000, with Alabama line. It is for the sum of $1,100,000, with the Mercantile Trust and Deposit company, of Daltimore, as trustees. The bonds are to be issued at the rate of $12,000 per mile, and the deed covers all the rights ways, franchises and privileges in Georgia and Alabama. This line is already operating 115 miles of compieted road in Georgia and rapid progress is being made toward Savannah on the east, while the western terminus is now in about six miles of the Chattanoschee river, some distance below Coinbus The road will be extended to Montgo umbus The read will be extended to Montgomery at an early date.

The counties in Georgia in which this mortgage has been recorded are Chatham, in which is the city of Savannah, Bryan, Liberty, Tattnall, Montgomery, Dodge, Wilcox, Dooly, Sumter, Webter and Stewart. The latter is immediately across the Chattahoochee river from Russell county, Going that way the read will pass through the counties of Russell, Macon and Montgomery. It will form a straight line to Savannah and is much shorter than any now in existence.

From the Age Herald.

"Railroad men are not the meanest men on carth." said Conductor Tracey, of the Louisville and Nashville railroad, in the presence of an Age Herald representative yesterday morning on the south bound Decatur accommodation.

The train had just pulled out from Cullman, where the genial railroad man had been in a few minutes' conversation with a young woman wearing the weeds of widowhood. He followed his remarks with a statement which shows that railroaders are among the kindest hearted of men.

Mr. Kibby, a telegraph operater, was among the first to die at Decaur last fall of yellow fever. He left his young wife with a morgage of some $300 or $300 or $300 or her nome, with no means of paying it off. Without letting her know it, Conductor Tracey started three subscription lists, one on the Nashville division, one on the Alabama division and one on the Memphis and Charleston road. The call was heartily responded to by railroad men, and the sum of $420,10 was raised. This amount was turned over to Mrs. Kibby a few days ago, and the little lady was completely overcome with gratitude. At present she is the 1088ess. e with gratitude. At present she is the unencumbered home and the foun bank account.
"I never did anything for which I feit so amply repaid," said Mr. Tracy, as he brushed away a tear in remembrance of the young widow's great but silent joy and gratitude.

Nashville's First Electric Car.

The first electric car run in Nashville was successfully operated yesterday by the McGavock and Mt. Vernon Street Railroad company. The trial trip was made at six o'clock, running from the Maxwell house to the end of the line at West Side Park in fifteen minutes. A large number of people collected at the offices of the company, on Cherry street, to see the car start, and when the current was turned on and the car moved off easily, many were evidently surprised. The small boys gave expression of their appreciation in repeated and vigorous yells. A Chinaman tersely expressed himself: "No mulce, no steamee, no pusice, no pulice, but run like h—lee alice samee."

om the Waynesboro, Ga., Citizen. We regret to see a disposition cropping out in some of the papers of the state to throw cold water over the movement for the establishment of the confederate home. The motive is nothing more or less than jealousy. The plan did not originate with them, and therefore they fail to appreciate it. They don't like THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION, and they, therefore, would damn anything it originates or advocates. The zeal and earnestness displayed by Mr. Grady entitles him to the lasting gratitude of the south, and the powerful work done by THE CONSTITUTION should greatly add to its extended influence. The gentlemen who own and run this great paper are second to no men in the south for intelligence and zeal in advocating every enterprise in which their state and country is interested. We may at times differ with The Constitution in its advocacy of certain measures; but we are frank to confess that it is the great power in Georgia, and the good it has done her people can never be estimated. We would not if we could lessen its great and growthe estimation of the people of Georgia, that the petty rivalry of other papers in attempting to pull it down and stop its onward and upward flight, is but a palpable wasto of time and labor. The consederate home will be built, and the great mass of people heartily approve of the plan as proposed and so eloquently advocated by Mr. Grady. The movement began with so much carnestures and carried to a successful accomplishment in so short a space of time reflects credit upon the people of the state and THE CONSTITUTION is entitled to the lasting

OOK TO THE CHILDREN

Nothing is so necessary to the health of the child as keeping its blood pure. Nature should be assisted in this by using a harmless vegetable remedy like Swift's Specific.

My little niece had white swelling to such an ex-tent that she was confined to the bed for a long time. More than twenty pieces of bone came out of her leg, and the doctors said amputation was the only remedy to save her life. I refused the operation and put her on S. S. S., and she is now up and active and in as good health as any child.

My little son, five years old, was afflicted with a alisease for which the doctors had no name. The nails came off his fingers, and the fingers came off his hands up to the middle joint. For three years he has suffered dreadfully, and has taken quantities of medicine. He is now getting well under treatment of Swift's Specific. Peru, Ind., Jan. 12, 1889.

Last year my little boy John had a breaking out with sores all over his body, which was painful and troublesome. After using other remedies for several months, while the sores grew worse, I was induced to give him Swift's Specific. He began to improve at once, and after taking three bottles the eruption was gone, and the child was altogether healed.

impressive ceremonies. The city-and college associations met at the association rooms at 3 o'clock, and from thence escorted the Mt. Vernon lodge of Masons to the building. After the opening hymn and prayer, the orator of the day, Hon. H. C. Tuek, was introduced by Mr. E. E. Jones, president of the Young Men's Christian association. Mr. Tuek spoke forcibly and eloquently for about half an hour, being frequently applauded for his magnificent effort. The Masonie lodge then deposited the stone in its place, after various things were placed in the opening beneath it. This institution is one of which Athens is very proud.

He bit Master Nelson Tift, and was fastened up. He broke out this morning, and was on the rampage again. A policeman was asked to go up and shoot him, but failing to comply the dog created havoc in several North Albany homesteads. A negro shot at and crippled it, and it was hobbling about while ladies fied at its approach. Officer James, hearing of the trouble, dispatched it this afternoon.

Reuben Glover Murdered. Reuben Glover Murdered.

Datuer, Ga., May 2.—[Special.]—Reuben Glover, who was shot by Wi'll Smith (both colored) about three weeks ago, died last night at 6 o'clock. The wound was a small scalp wound, not injuring the skull at all. The place healed up and seemed to get well. Glover complained of it paining him badly, and four days ago it produced lockjaw, which killed him. Smith was tried and let out on a small bond by the justice. He skipped when he heard of the lockjaw, and now can't be found.

IN THE FEDERAL COURT

An Old Man Sentenced for Violation of the Internal Revenue Law.

An Old Man Sentenced for Violation of the Internal Revenue Law.

Savannah, Ga., May 2.—[Special.]—Bowen Herrington, of Emanuel county, was put on trial in the United States district court today for illieit distilling. The defendant was indicted, with his brother, Berrien. Both are brothers of Mr. Alfred Herrington, a member of the general assembly from Emanuel. The trial has continued all day.

A. B. Hathaway, who was tried yesterday for illieit distilling in Washington county, was convicted in the afternoon. At the opening of the United States court this morning. Hathaway was brought before Judge Emory Speer, who proceeded to pass sentence on him. Hathaway is an old farmer and a justice of the peoce. The judge remarked that "the court could sentence you to the penitentlary for two years, and impose a fine of $2,000." Judge Speer's remarks were in a severe tone, which alarmed the old farmer. In the next breath his honor relieved Hathaway by adding that it was not the purpose of the court to deal with him heavily. Most of the officers of the court are native Georgians—all are southerners by birth, and feel kindly and sympathetically towards even the violaters of the law. Their only object is to see that the laws which they have sworn to enforce are obeyed. The court regretted to impose even the minimum penalty, but the defendant had been found guilty, and the sentence would be one month in the Chatham county in ill and been found guilty, and the sentence would be one month in the Chatham county jail and $1,200 fine and the costs of the trial, which amounted to about $200 more.

"In view of your past life, and your family, the court of the county of the co the court now suspends your sentence and per mits you to go," the judge added. SHOT IN THE ANKLE.

A Mysterious Shooting Transaction Near

Talbotton, Ga., May 2.—[Special.]—A mysterious affair happened near Geneva, about five miles from Talbotton, yesterday morning. A messenger came for Dr. W. H. Philpot, of this city, about 4 o'clock yesterday morning, to dress the wound of Mr. Mike Malana, who lives about five miles from here, on the road to Geneva. Dr. Philpot says the wound is in the ankle, and seems to have been produced by a pistol of about 32-caliber. Mr. Malana was not in condition to talk much, but Malana was not in condition to talk much, but a negro who was with him says that he and Malana were returning from Geneva walking, and about one and a half miles from that place some one fired three shots at them, the last one striking Malana. They saw no one and heard nothing except the firing.

No effort has been made to capture the guilty party, as some seem to think that Malana shot himself or the negro shot him accidentally.

The Mayor of Fairburn Declares Prohibition to Be a Failure.

FAIRBURN, Ga., May 2.—[Special.]—Dick Morris, who created such a sensation here yesterday, was today tried before the mayor on four separate charges, and fined $85. He was then turned over to the sheriff, but was subsequently released on a $1,000 bond for carrying concealed weapons and for assault with intent to market.

This is the third case this week of drunk and disorderly conduct, and the fines have amounted to $125. The mayor stated in the trial of one of these cases that it was impossible to stop the sale of whisky, and that in his opinion there was more whisky drinking and drunkenness than ever before in the history of the town. It is very plain that the prohibition law is unpopular here. It is practically a dead letter in Campbell county, and ought at once to be repealed.

New Waterworks Projected-The Gas Deal-Two Men Hurt-A Mad Dog-General News of Interest.

Macon, Ga., May 2 .- [Special.] -- Messrs. J. A. and W. A. Roush, of Petersburg, Indiana, are in the city at the Hotel Lanier. Mr. W. A. Roush has been here several weeks. He is a large stockholder in the new Palmer hame factory that is being erected. Mr. J. A. Roush has been here about a week.

Today it tronspired that the Roush brothers are looking for a convenient site on which to establish a spoke, hub and fellers factory. They own and operate a splendid plant in Indiana, but they desire to remove it to Macon. They are delighted with the situation of Macon, and think it is destined to a great future. So soon as they find a suitable site they will commence the removal of the western plant. They may also make other valuable investment in this city. A large number of hands will be employed in the spoke factory. There are five Roush brothers and they will move to Macon and locate here permanently. The Roush brothers are much pleased with the wood that abounds about Macon, well adapted wood that manufacturing purposes.

Messrs, W. A. and J. A. Roush will immediately commence the erection of a fine compress at Machen, on the Covington and Macon road, and expect to erect compresses elegations.

elsewhere. NEW WATERWORKS. Macon boasts of owning the finest water-works system in the state. The water itself is very fine, and there is a magnificent flow of it, but there is great probability that a rival system may soon be established in Macon.

About three miles from this city is located what is known as "McCall's pond." It is a beautiful sheet of clear, pure water, of large extent, and flowing from inexhaustible springs which have never been known to go dry. It is owned by the Misses Davis of this city. Davis, of this city.

Negotiations are now pending between Washington and Baltimore capitalists and the owners of the property for the purchase of the same. Yesterday afternoon the Macon representatives of the northern capitalists had a conference with the Misses Davis. The capitalists would like the owners to put McCall's poul in as so much Misses Davis. The capitalists would like the owners to put McCall's pond in as so much stock in the plant, and this might prove a valuable investment; or, if they did not care to do this, then the capitalists will buy the property if the figures are not too high.

McCall's would be the basis of a magnificent system of water works. In addition to the water works it is proposed to erect a paper factory at McCall's and establish other manufacturing enterprises that can be operated

THE GAS DEAL.

Tomorrow is the date appointed for the consummation of the final details connected with the purchase of the Macon Gas Light and Water company by the American Gas Works Construction company, at New York and Philadelphia, represented by Mr. Van Steenbergh. The arrival of Van Steenbergh and the milhonaire Werk are expected tomorrow from Philadelphia, and will meet the directors and stockholders of the Macon company. When Mr. Van Steenbergh left Macon April 16th last the sale and purchase of the gas and water the sale and purchase of the gas and water plant were considered absolute.

The Praise is Due. Macon, Ga., May 2.—[Special.]—Great praise is due the E. S. Jones post, of the Grand Army of the Republic, located at this city. The post has sent a check for twenty five dollars to Colonel William H. Ross, to forward to Atlanta as their contribution to the fund of the confederate soldiers' home fund The members of the post say they regret their mability to make it ten times larger. Thus the heart of a portion of the north at least speaks its true feelings for the noble heroes who wore the gray. Colonel Rose has forwarded the contribution of the Jones post and his own denation of fifty dollars.

Two Men Hurt.

Macon, Ga., May 2.—[Special.]—This after mean a scaffold at the new T. C. Burke building fell, and Mr. Evans was badly hurt on the hip and his face was bruised. Another workman, Mr. Tidinger, who was under the scaffold, was also hurt by the failing brick. It was thought that the cause of the accident was due to being overloaded.

To the Point.

A nobler charity never engaged the attention of the people. This ought to be only the beginning. It ought to be supplemented by a liberal pension from the state treasury, to ever needy confederate soldier. We have for years urged that this be done. It was partly done by the present legislature at its last session, and it ought to be completed at the summer session. Every man who fought for southern independence out to be put beyond the possibility of want.

The Prospect in Oothcalooga Valley Never Better Than Now.

Adainsville, Ga., May 2.—[Special.]—The fruit crop prospect was never better in Ooth-calooga valley than at the present. Wheat especially is looking well. Clover and grass does not lag. Peaches, apples, pears, pluns, cherries, and all fruit in fact, is beyond an average. Strawberries are bringing good prices. It would only require a few hours' ride through our beautiful valley now to make one who is a judge say it is the garden spot of the state—we will say, of the south. Vast acres of wheat and clover now meet the eye on every side, and at the houses of these prosperous people you find home decoration and ornaous people you find home decoration and orna-mentation; flower gardens are abundant, and some are beyond comparison. One of the some are beyond comparison. One of the prettiest is that of Mrs. W. L. LeConte, near here. Her collection embraces some of the most rare and delightful plants. This garden is one among many that is delightfully laid out and executed.

THE MELON CROP.

An Observer Declares that the Crop is Backward.

From the Quitman, Ga., Free Press.

Mr. Gardner Chapin, of the well known Boston commission house of Chapin Bros., was in town last week and the Free Press had was in town last week and the Free Frees had a pleasant little chat with him about water-melons and the outlook generally. Mr. Chapin has been over the melon belt pretty freely and is favorably impressed with the prospect. He thinks the crop is a little backward compared with last year, but that shipments will compared with last year, but that shipments will compared the property of the same ways. mence scon enough anyway. He also said that he had been frequently told that the acreage was considerably less than last year, but that this did not correspond with his observations and that he expected shipments to be fully as heavy as last year. Mr. Chapin is confident that melons will be larger and finer than they generally are, and that as a consequence the that melons will be larger and finer than they generally are, and that as a consequence the season will be a successful one. In regard to shipments he advises all-rail shipments when it is at all practicable. He says that the transfers necessary in shipping by steamer and keeping the melons for several days in the hot hold of the steamer has a bad effect on them, and that the buyers have got so they can tell at a glance whether a melon came by an all-rail route or by steamer, and, he added, I would be willing to guarantee at least $3 per hundred more for the same quality of melons when shipped by an all-rail route.

A Good Fruit Crop.

A Good Fruit Crop. From the Talbotton, Ga., Era. We can never reliably estimate the fruit yield until the harvest, but reports from all sections of this county warrant the belief that he promise of a good crop of fruit is unusually ood. Should the yield measure with the resent indications there will be an abundance of fruit, and this crop properly managed can be made profitable. There is a fine demand for dried fruit, as is indicated by the prices. Dried apples are quoted from 7 cents to 8 cents per pound, and dried peaches are quoted from 124 cents to 15 cents. The old fashioned way of drying fruit is a tedious process, but with peelers and evaporators fruit can be dried in quantities that pay handsomely.

Were They Drunk?

Some of the Grand Army men at their re union in New York the other night got themselves into a very stupid mess.

It seems that Colonel Drake, at Elizabeth, New Jersey, pinned a Grand Army badge on Governor Gordon's breast. At the meeting in New York Colonel Drake was denounced in bitter terms for his action and threatened with a court martial and expulsion from the Grand Army. One Colonel Quick made himself the blue ribbon donkey of the evening by saying that any man who, for the sake of notoriety and mock sentimentality, would pin a Grand Army badge on a man who fought against the union was unworthy to be a member of the order and did not know its first prin-

Such nonsense doubtless appeared very patriotic to a set of stupid fellows deep in their cups, but after the talk of the centennial orators about a reunited country the heated utterances of Colonel Quick and his friends cannot fail to excite the disgust of all sober men and good people.

It is a pity that the Grand Army has in it a few hot-headed extremists who are always coming to the front at the wrong time. Colonel Drake's graceful recognition of a gallant soldier was honorable to both parties, and no brave wearer of the blue is going to raise a row about it if he is in his right mind.

A Forgotten Dime Novel. The New York World, with characteristic enterprise, has dragged from its obscurity a sensational love story written by Napoleon Bonaparte in his college days.

It is possible that the story is a "fake," but as Bourienne, Napoleon's private secretary, preserved it and handed it down to posterity, the presumption is that it is gen-

A glance at this forgotten romance shows that the great Corsican possessed in no small degree the gift of vivid and graphic story telling. The short novel now rather cruelly thrust upon the public reads wonderfully like the intense and sensational dime fiction of the present day.

Perhaps under favorable circumstances Napoleon would have been the Dumas of his day, but it is likely that his first crude effort disgusted him and he threw it aside. Undoubtedly the poor and friendless student in those days had the literary craze, and had it bad. Besides his novel he wrote a drama, but he was no better satisfied with this than he was with his story. So he reluctantly laid down the pen and took

It is enough to make the stern conquerer turn in his grave to have this folly of his youth spread before the eyes of the readers of this generation. There can be no doubt that it is treating a great man very unjustly and shabbily to make public the literary efforts of his boyish days. Very few of our best writers would show up well under such a test. Some of our successful men have voluntarily given to the world the 'compositions written when they were in their teens, but it is suspected that they Howells because of his boldness in speaking revised their work very carefully and made

But the whole business shows how little is really known of a man's inner life and his secret aspirations. Napoleon's fellow students could form no estimate of his future greatness, and those who knew him in his maturer years never dreamed that he had missed one of his pet aims in life, and was, like Richelleu, a failure in literature. After all, even a great man is a very queer being, and sometimes his thoughts, methods and mistakes are very much like those of

An Interesting Controversy.

The Goldsboro Headlight, a modest North Carolina newspaper, which until recently was unknown outside a limited local range, is now figuring conspicuously as the leader of one side of a controversy of Kational im-

As yet the leader of the opposition has not definitely materialized, though the Charleston World thinks it has found such a man in the person of ex-President Grover Cleveland.

The issue is the alleged candidacy of Mr. Cleveland for the next democratic presidential nomination. A topic of more general interest could not have been sprung, as is manifested by the eagerness with which the public awaits the settlement of the question at stake.

It has already been noted in these columns that the energetic editor of the Goldsboro Headlight encountered Mr. Cleveland on the latter's return from Cuba, the distinguished tourist having stopped in Goldsboro on the usual "twenty minutes for dinner" schedule. With true journalistic instinct the Headlight man proceeded to pump the ex-president, with the following result, announced in flaming display next

t through your columns that my public mend. * * I shall not accept the

This was the reply of Mr. Cleveland on being told by the progressive editor that "the south intended to renominate him for president in 1892." This interesting information is somewhat newsy, but it is to be presumed that the Headlight man knew what he was talking about. Likewise Mr. Cleveland's answer should be credited with authority and ordinarily should be taken as pupils equal by putting them through the conclusive.

But there are two arguments which go to show that the ex-president was not really in carnest, even if he made the remarks attributed to him. First, the Charleston World publishes a letter from Mr. Cleveland in renly to an enclosure of the Headlight's article, in which he says:

"You ask me to say whether or not it it correct.

I shall content myself in this case with saying that the report of the interview contained in the clipping is very inaccurate and misleading."

Second, past events have demonstrated that Mr. Cleveland's peculiar idea of humor leads him to joke the public when on this his first nomination he announced that he was bitterly opposed to second terms. This was a joke; therefore it may be fairly inferred that he showed his appreciation of his Goldsboro dinner by indulging in a similar joke at the expense of the Headlight man.

But the Goldsboro editor is not disposed to let the matter drop with the quasi rebuke conveyed in the letter to the Charleston World, and he now announces that he will prove that Mr. Cleveland wrote no such letter and that the Headlight interview i authentic. Here the controversy rests at present. Let us hope that the Headlight man will ot, in his determination to sustain himself, withdraw his generous assurance of the south's intention to nominate Mr. Cleveland in 1892, for if the latter concludes to take issue with the Headlight he would take great comfort in the certainty of the support of this wide expanse of democratic territory.

The Southern Travelers' Association. The organization of the Southern Travelers' association cannot be commended too strongly, and the general interest manifested in the first meeting of the body, which occurs in Sayannah next week promises much for the future usefulness of the organization.

The southern association is a result of a peaceful division of the National association, the southern members thinking that greater advantages would accrue to the commercial interests they represented by a more compact organization of the traveling men in the territory included in the southern states. Railroad, steamship, insurance and other such organizations find that they can operate to greater advantage by division of territory, and the same argument that makes this so applies to the travelers' association. It was found that under the national organization the southern members could not obtain as advantageous rates, railroad, hotel, etc., as their brothers in the west and northeast, and that the mutual benefits of co-operation could not be shared alike, for various reasons, by the traveling men in the southern states. Thus prompted, a number of well known gentlemen proceeded to organize the southern association, and the success of their efforts will be attested in the Savannah meeting. This association should have the hearty encouragement of the honest men of the south, for it will prove one of the most potent levers in the advancement and extension of our commerce. There is not a feature about it that is not in full sympathy with the business welfare of our merchants, and it is a short sighted employer who would not extend his hearty encouragement to any movement looking to the development of the association.

The Atlanta branch holds an important meeting Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the chamber of commerce hall, and a general attendance of not only the commerclal travelers, but also of the business men of the city is earnestly desired. Atlanta will be well represented in Savannah, and it is to perfect the organization of the city branch, before the general meeting, that the call for Saturday night is made.

The Planing Mill System.

"Have we any novelists?" asks the Richmond Times, and the editor then goes on to argue that we have not many to speak of, and certainly none to brag about.

This may be true, and yet it is the result of conditions over which even genius has no control. If a Scott were to arise now he would have to write something more inter esting and in better style than "Ivanhoe." There has been a great pecking at Mr. out for the moderns, and while we do not gree with him in everything he says, we can understand and appreciate his purpose. That the fictive art is finer and more comprehensive than in the days of Thackeray and Dickens no one believes, for nothing comparable to their works has been produced by the more modern writers; but it is very certain that neither their mannerisms nor the elaborate awkwardness of

Scott would be tolerated by modern readers. What, then, is the trouble with the odern novel? Well, for one thing the modern novel lacks a full grown man to write it. Mr. Howelfs gives us a great many clever but superficial characterizations, and Mr. James is delightfully tantalizing, filling the air and the ear with a shower of incomparable persiflage; but there is nothing great in these things. They are inconsequential, they lack the raw purpose, so to speak, and they lack the individuality that was Scott's and that is a part of Dickens and Thackeray. This is putting the matter rather vaguely of course, but as there are some elements in life that can be neither described nor indicated, so there is an element in the writings of Scott, Thackeray and Dickens that escapes analysis and elucidation. We all know what that element is, for all of us have fallen under its spell, but nobody knows the name of it.

For want of a better name (since geniu covers a much broader field) we have called it individuality. This particular quality is largely lacking in our modern literature, and we have sometimes thought that this lack is due to the monotony of our school system. There is a strenuous effort on the part of teachers and school boards to make one pupil just like another. The same books, the same methods, the same humdrun policy, the same grades, the same every thing, and all the result of an effort that is not higher than the purpose of the manager of a planing mill who wants to bring all his planks to one thickness. The planing mill man has much the best of the argument, both as to reason and right: but there is no reason why all pupils should be cut to the same thickness. Neither great men nor great works can result from this modern effort to make all notony of the public school planing mill where each youngster must size up, or down, with all the other youngsters.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

THE VIRGINIA TROOPS might as well go to war as to a holiday parade in New York. Last Tuesday Colonel Gaines fell from his horse and broke his leg. General Anderson's horse also fell with his rider, but the general escaped without in-jury.

THE NORTHERN LITERARY weeklies are bound to have southern literature, and they are gelting it. THE PHILADELPHIA PRESS Says: "A New New Hampshire paper which has been studying the problem of insect pests declares that one-third of the product of the farmer's toil is devoured by these plagues, and predicts that the earth is about to swing into the age of insects, as it has already passed through the ages of fishes and reptiles and is ow in the age of mammals. It suggests that the best way to fight these winged enemies of the farmer, most of which are night flyers, is to light torches and bonfires in el gible places, let them fly into the flames and burn them up. The wel known tendency of insects to fly into a fire is relied on to make the plan effective. A better and cheaper way, however, would be to abolish the shotgun. Let insectiverous birds multiply, as they will if t killed by sportsmen, and the insects will be killed off better than by fires. The farmers are largely responsible for their own misfortune, for they permit shooting on their lands, and too often indulge in the alleged sport themselves. The way to save heir crops is to spare the birds."

EDITORS CONSTITUTION: Permit me to add word of indorsement to your manly and timely orial in this morning's paper on "One Way o ttacking Christianity."
The World's reporter needs a rebuke for that sort of clever enterprise that attempts to propogate sort of clever enterprise that attempts to propagate infidelity by parading the home life of the Misses Ingersoll. It is one of the strong features of southern journalism that it has never been subsidized in the interest of infidelity nor unbelief. It is the giory of our southern civilization that while progressive in thought and life, we have always been onservative and orthodox in faith. The three reat forces that have contributed to this much de-red end in the south have been a faithful ministry, a loyal press and a pure literature. The World's oung reporter may have won a cheap sort of noto-ety, but has deserved no credit. The effort to promote Ingersollism by making it appear that in the home life of the celebrated scoffer ere is more "sweetness and light" than in the ome of the devout believer is as shallow as it is strue. Infidelity is no more productive of astheticism and happiness than it is of trut and purity. What we need in our American civili tion is a great critic with the literary ability and satirical power of Thomas Carlyle, who could match the champion infidel with his own weapon of satire. Mr. Gladstone and Mr. Field have more than matched him in debate, but what is ne now is someone who can out-rank him in

PERRY, Ga., April 26.-Editors Constitu on: The heart offering list finds friends and sympathizers hore without being considered an intruder or imposition on the public. At the instance of Mr. J. H. Hodges, of the Home Journal, and in furtherance of the graud cause you are so well and nobly champio I opened a subscription list, and find, I am proud to say, the fires of love and sympathy have not gone out. . The embers have be touched to glow into tangible help for those whose further and future living and journey to the end of life would be extremely doubtful and uncertain but for some such timely and commendable provision as is now attempting to be made. Monuments of and brass would pale into insignificance as compared to a living, moving and beneficiary one built by the consolidated hearts of a people. The ex-confederate sol-dier expects nothing and asks nothing from the general government. On the one hand he would have to lower the standard of that imperishable manhood nature gave him, and on the other expect an inconsistent justice. A mean heritage to our children would be far worse than all silent waferings of the old soldier. If our northern friends of their own accord and free will see proper to make us con tributions, then accept and use them as best may subserve our purpose, but for the sake of all that is manly and honorable do not beg them for it. The confederate soldier can and will bear his burdens to the end of his allotted time. On one shoulder he will help carry his northern friend and former antagonist, on the other himself, and on his back all the crippled comrades, especially with a little by way of contributions from his kith and kin. All of us, I hope, properly appreciate the kindness of our northern friends to our Texan comrades, but many of us doubt the propriety of going into their homes and begging contributions. If the milk of human kindness sufficiently and properly moved them they would find a correct way to reach and aid our struggling efforts. Twenty-five years is an all powerful factor to convince them that to desert our broken comrades or banish from our memories our fallen ones, would be to desert ourselves-to brand ourselves with shame by coming generations.

We are loyal to the government, but as truly loyal to ourselves and that honor which holds and carries loyalty to the government. We wish to be their friends, and we are their friends in a manly and honorable way, but not otherwise. But I have digressed, and allowed my mind to carry me, I am afraid, Do excuse even to your annoyance. the slip, but above all don't slip the opportunity now ripe for a confederate home. The people are willing to give, and if the right effort is made in every town and county in the state, a snug sum can easily be raised. In a very short time here I obtained a subscription of seventy-five dollars, and can easily raise it. I think, to $100. One noticeable fact, not a single man has refused to contribute his small mite, no matter how poor and even needy. Again, it seemed to come from the heart—hence ours is a heart offer. Please state if I shall forward the money, how, and to whom. Yours truly,

A MOCK MARRIAGE. WAS SIMON MARRIED OR WAS HE NOT?

The Queer Actions of an Eccentric Man Whose Mind is Believed to Be Unbalanced -Once a Prominent Merchant-He Looks for a Pistol to Take His Own Life.

Yesterday morning Mr. Moses Simon was aken back to South Carolina. He was carried to Columbia by his brother, Mr. Sol. Simon, and Miss Mattie Lamsden went with them. It will be remembered that Mr. Simon was arrested Sunday and held, at the stationh Monday morning on a charge of lunacy. Chief Connelly released him, and he returned to his om at the National hotel.

He had been attracted by a young lady who was stopping at Dr. Ickes,' 23 Wheat street, as soon as he was released went down there determined to marry her. There are several stories con-cerning the marriage, and it is likely to cause sensation in Hebrew circles. WAS IT A MOCK MARRIAGE?

Mr. Kempner, who is now running the Naional hotel, said yesterday:

"Mr. Simon is crazy. The marriage was only a mock marriage. The lady herself pro-Simon, so as to relieve his mind, right here in the presence of witnesses.' "Was there a license?"

"There was not. My son, David Kempner, went and got Mr. May, who went through the performance, but it was understood that it was only a mock marriage." "Did Mr. Simon and the lady consider it a real marriage?" "No, certainly not. She stayed with Dr. Ickes and he stayed here. I am told that they went away together, but I suppose she did that just to keep him quiet.'

"Was Mr. Simon very boisterous?" "I should say he was. Night before last he came to the hotel and raised a big racket. He wore only his pants, with his suspenders hanging down, and he went all over the house very wildly. He broke up the furniture in his bedroom and acted so badly that I thought proper to have him arrested.'

MR. MAY TALKS. Mr. Manuel May keeps a confectionery and andy store on Decatur street. "Because I can read Hebrew," he said "they came to me to perform a marriage ceremony. Of course I am no priest and have no authority to perform such ceremonies. They told me it was only a mock marriage, and that it was being done to quiet the man.

"Was there any license? "None whatever. I went there and found the lady in her ordinary every lay clothes, and they stood up and I repeated three or four nes in Hebrew and then left. I saw he was crazy. The first thing he said to me was that we are having some fine weather now.' "You knew it was all a sham?

"Yes, I knew there was nothing real about it. The man is insane, and I understood that the lady just went through the ceremony to keep him quiet."

DR. ICKES'S STATEMENT. Dr. Ickes is a lady physician, living at 23 Wheat street.
"Miss Mattie Lumsden is one of my warmest personal friends," she said last night. "Sie was under my treatment six years ago, and

"Did you consider the wedding valid?"

"Of course I did. The gentleman who was brought in by Mr. David Kempner, was introduced to me as Rabbi May. He put on the robes of a priest and performed the generally, so far as I know, according to the orthoony, so far as I know, according to the orth dox fashion."

"You know Miss Mattie well?" "I do, and I shail certainly resent anything that may be said derogatory to her. There never was a better, purer or more upright gid than Miss Mattie Lumsden."

"Did she accompany Mr. Simon home?"
"She went to meet her father, in Columbia

"Did you think Mr. Simon crazy?"

"Did you think Mr. Simon crazy?"
"I did not. He was suffering from overwork. His large lime interests kept him so busy that he became a sufferer in consequence. He came here to be treated by me, but was directed to Dr. Bak, afterwards. was directed to Dr. Bak, aft I knew Mr. Simon, and he is co wealthy. His second wife—he has be ried three times now—was the daughter of Mr. Kempner, and four or five years ago, when Mr. Simon was president of the Southern Lime association, and had an office in the Gate City bank building. an office in the fate City bank building, he did a great deal of charitable work in Atlanta and helped Mr. Keupner in many ways, even furnishing the house that he lived in on

Whitehall street. Simon's MENTAL TROUBLE.

Colonel Adolph Brandt has known Mr.
Simon for a long while. He said:
"Mr. Ssmon is naturally a very smart business man. About a year ago he was thrown from his buggy at Gaffney City and his brain was injured. Since then he has not been himself."

"His he crazy?"
"His, mind is evidently unbalanced at times. For instance, he told me that he walked twenty-five miles every morning before breakfast. He said he did it to give him an appetite. He made other statements equally as preposterous."
"He failed in business about a year ago and he telegraphed we to represent him."

e telegraphed me to represent his

"Oh, yes. He came to us to represent him when he was arrested. I saw that there was mental trouble then. I asked Mr. Weil to attend to the mrtter, as I had my hands fall."
"Do you know whether he is wealthy or not?"

"I do not. I don't think that he has much roperty. His accident and his losses unsettled in. I was at both his marriages and was his legal adviser when he was in Atlanta several

It is said that on Tuesday night, when be was on the rampage, he went into every lady's room in the National hotel, trying to get a pistel with which to shoot himself. et a pistel with which to shoot minutinally he threatened to burn the house down When his wife—or his reputed wife—came to the stationhouse to get him out, she told Captain Couch that he was her husband. He called her "durling," and she called him "my dear," and after Mr. Simou was turned out they walked off arm in arm together.

The case is a strange one, and it is quite probable that there will be other developments.

EDITORS CONSTITUTION: A stetement in your paper of this date, in which reference is made to this institution, possibly calls for a brief notice. It is true as stated in that publication that several students have recently been removed from the school. This action of the faculty was taken in the interests of good order and good discipline, after a long and patient investigation, lesting several weeks, upon what was believed to be good and ample evidence, since confirmed by the voluntary statements of most of the persons affected, and this decision so rendered, it is confidently believed will be sustained by the enlightened public sentiment of the commu-nity, and if need be, by the courts of our state. It may be proper to add that James Switt, one of the persons named as suspended, had no penalty inflicted upon him, nor any trial, and that two others vamed are still members of the school.

He said they had not been drilling very much during the winter, and that as they had decided to go to Macon they did not want to be taken at a disadvantage. REAL ESTATE TRANSACTIONS.

Some Sales That Have Been Made and Some to Come Off. The real estate boom is in full sway and almost every day brings a public sale of some sort; consequently the real estate men are happy, And they should be, for all the sales held thus far have been very successful, and from present indications the sales which are to come off in the future will be even more.

Quite a number of sales have been held durthat of Samuel W. Goode & Co., which was interfered with by the rainy weather, all were well attended and the prices received uniformly good.

Messrs, Samuel W. Goode & Co. will probably sell, the very sell attended and the prices received uniformly good.

ably sell the remainder of the Grant park lots either to-morrow or during the early part of next week. These lots, which were to have been sold on Wednesday, but were with-held on account of the unfavorable weather and unsatisfactory prices obtained for those offered, are very desirably located and will no doubt find ready purchasers whenever offered. In yesterday's paper it was stated that the property sold by Dr. H. L. Wilson on Tuesday was what is known as the Peters estate. This was an error. The property in question was originally the old Luckie property, and lies some distance to the north of the Peters estate. This correction is made because some surprise ably sell the remainder of the Grant park some distance to the north of the Peters estate. This correction is made because some surprise was expressed at the low figure at which the lots were sold. Dr. Wilson says, however, that the sale was in every respect satisfactory; that the property brought as much as was expected, and that the buyers are very well satisfied.

A number of sales are booked for the comin week, some of the property offered being vacant and some improved.

On Tuesday Krouse & Welch will sell thirty-five vacant lots on Georgia avenue, Connolly, Garden and Bass streets, just this side of Grant park. The dummy line runs past these lots, and a free ride will be given all who desire to attend the sale.

Messrs. Leak & Lyle will also offer for sale Messrs. Leak & Lyle will also offer for sale on next Tuesday, four vacant lots and one house and lot in West End. The four vacant lots are right in the center of this beautiful suburb, on Gordon street, and the improved property only about three blocks from the street car line, all being very desirable.

Nine houses and lots, three on Fowler street, three on Trenholm street and three on Kenvecy street, will also head by Messrs.

Kennesaw street, will also be sold by Messrs.
Leak & Lyle. The houses on these lots are two and three room cottages, and are within two blocks of the technological school, and one block from the North avenue car line. This is an executrix sale, and will be held in front of the courthouse door.

Besides the sales mentioned above there will probably be some others. Next week will probably be a lively one in real estate

RESERVED HIS DECISION.

A Demurrer to a Case Against the Govern ment Argued.

In the United States court yesterday, Judge Newman, a demurrer to the declaration in the case of W. F. Bowe against the United States, was argued.

Bowe sued the government for having been delayed in completing certain buildings at the United States barracks, as he alleges by the interference of Captain Jacobs, who, he claims, required much extra work to be done entailing much extra expense upon the contractor.

In the demurrer offered by United States District Attorney Darnell these points were made—that no cause of action was shown because the contract was made on June 30th while the act under which the suit was brought was not passed until the succeeding March, and was not retroactive; that a mistake had been made in unping on a contract and for damages in the

Sent Up for Six Years for Stealing a Dol-lar's Worth of Flour.

James Gross is free.
Gross was convicted of burglary at the March erm, 1887, of the superior court of Clay county and sentenced to serve six years in the penitentiary.

He stole one dollar's worth of flour, being guilty of what the lawyers call technical bur glary.

He has been in the penitentiary two years, and yesterday an executive order was directed to the principal keeper commuting his sentence to the imprisonment suffered. The prosecutor originated the petition for the commutation, which is signed by many prominent citizens of Clay county and ap-proved by the judge who sentenced Gross.

Gave Them a Thorough Trial.

Hon. E. A. Moore, Member of Assembly, Richmond, county, N. Y., writes: ASSEMBLY CHAMBER, ALBANY, N. Y., April 11, 1887: I have two afflictions which etimes make life a burden. One is dyspepsia, the other is rheumatism. I heard that BRAND-RETH'S PILLS taken one or two a night on an empty stomach, would cure rheumatic pains. I gave them a thorough trial for three weeks, taking one or two every night. To my delight, not interfere with my diet or business, and I really think them an incomparable blood purifier and cathartic.

'Pinafore' Will Be Produced This Evening-The Concert Last Night-An Old Folks' Tea at Mrs. Rice's-Points About People.

The first performance of this most delightful of operas by the excellent company which Prot. Salter has gotten together, will be given at DeGive's together.

Of "Pinafore"-but what is there to say of that Everybody knows it, and to know it is to love it. The different characters are familiar to us all, and the beautiful music, funny sayings and olish nonsense are ever delicious.

And of the company.

It is only necessary to print the names of the members of this company osatisfy everybody as to its excellence. With Mr. of the Sam Burbank as Sir Joseph Porter, Mr. Hugh Angier as Captain Corecran, Mr. J. C. Abdill as Ralph Rackstraw, and Mr. R. B. Shepherd as Dick Deadeye, the cast is a sstrong as any "Pinafore" cast could well be. Then with Mrs. Mary Turner Salter as Josephine, Mr. Alice J. White as Hebe and Mrs. Constantin Sternberg as Little Buttercup, the com-pany is folly as strong as any professional company which has ever presented this beautiful opera in

Atlanta. The chorus is made up of well known
Atlanta. The chorus is made up of well known Atlanta singers and has been well drilled.

Of the special features of the performance the costuming and stage setting deserve special mention. The drill of the Zouave squad, which will act as escort to Sir Joseph, will be a pretty feature. By special request the following numbers are introduced in the first act: Song, "The Midshipmite." Adams—Master Clark Kendrick: air. alpmite," Adams-Master Clark Kendrick; air, "Licti Siguor," (Huguenots) Meyerbeer-Mrs. Alice J. White. "Pinafore" will be the best amateur entertain ment ever given in Atlanta. It is given for the benefit of the Industrial union, and will doubtless be largely attended. The concert given at the opera house last eveing, for the benefit of St. Joseph's Infirmary, was a grand success from an artistic standpoint, even it not as successful financially as it should have been. Taken as a whole it is doubtful if any concert given this season has been its equal. The participants are known as being some of Atlanta's foremost musicians, and last evening all appeared at their The programme as carried out was as follows:

ship of Mr. Charles Wurm the several selections of last evening were perfectly rendered.

Mrs. Dykeman's rich voice was never heard to better advantage. She was, of course, a great favorite with the audience and all of her numbers were warmly applauded.

Madame Von der Hoya-Shultze's playing was one of the most attractive features of an evening full of good things. Madame Shultze is a true artist, whose playing is a source of genuine pleasure to all who are so fortunate as to be able to hear her, and every-body in the audience enjeyed it. Atlanta feels great prids and it is pardonable pride—in Amadeo von der Hoya, That Amadeo is a wonderful violinist the many invitations he has to appear in the north at test. The music loving people of Atlanta believe that he is one of the most promising young musicians of the world, and his every appearance is, of course, a signal for hearty recognition. He was at his best last night, and the music which came from his violin was divine.

As a whole the concert was perfect, the evening one of pure enjoyment. A pleasant pienic was given to Kennesaw mountain yesterday by the Misses Roberts. About twenty friends of the young ladies were present, and all enjoyed their day on the historic old mountain.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Tidwell entertained the K. S. Club at a dance Wednesday evening. The affair was a thoroughly delightful one, and was greatly enjoyed by all who were present.

It was an "Old Folks' Tea," the tea drinking lasting from 5 o'clock until 10 in the evening. There was a good attendance all evening. The young ladies in their quaint costumes and powdered hair looked more charming than usual, if such a thing be possible. And all enjoyed themselves. Quite a nice sum was realized

IN THE COURTS

The case of Long vs. the Western and At-court yesterday, and the jury brought in a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $10,000. The suit was brought by John A. Long for $15,000 damages for injuries received by an engine on the Western and Atlantic road. In January, 1888, while Long was walking along the track of the State road, on his way home, he was struck by a Western and Atlantic engine, which knocked him down, fracturing the bene in his left foot and otherwise seriously injuring him. The accident occurred near the Foundry street crossing. Long is a machinist employed at the shops of the Western and Atlantic road, and, when the acci-dent occurred, was endeavoring to get out of the way of an approaching train, but in his efforts to do so failed to notice another engine efforts to do so failed to notice another engine which was coming up behind him on the track to which he jumped. It was claimed that the engineer on the train which knocked Long down and in jured him did not exercise proper care in warning him of his danger.

The case has been on trial since Monday morning, before Judge Marshal J. Clarke, and the speeches consumed seven hours time. Judge Clarke gave the case to the jury about four o'clock yesterday afternoon, and after being out a little over a half hour, returned the verdict as above.

The plaintiff was represented by Judge R.
T. Dorsey and C. T. Ladson, and the defense was made by Julius L. Brown, attorney for the Western and Atlantic road. Yesterday Mrs. B. N. W. Broomhead, wife of D. H. Broomhead, made application for an injunction against Messrs. W. D. Grant, S. D. Howland and Dr. J. N. Cook to prevent them from using certain livery stables. The case will come up before Judge Marshall J. Clark on Saturday, May 11.

The city court, Judge Van Epps presiding, was occupied yesterday in hearing the motion for non-suit in the case of Allen vs. the Atlanta and West Point railroad company and the Western Railway of Alabama. The motion for non-suit is brought on the ground that the Western Railway of Alabama and the Atlanta and West Point Railroad company were separate and distinct corporations, controlled by separate and distinct boards of directors, and therefore not jointly liable for any damages.

The plaintiff, Allen, was in the employ of the railway mail service, running between Atlanta's Havana Cigar Factory. We desire to call the attention of all smokers offine imported Havana and domestic cigars to a few plain facts: We use annually from fifty to seventy-five bales of the finest imported Havana leaf tobaceo in manufacturing cigars. We select this leaf tobacco personally from the best vegas in Cuba and it comes to us directly through the Atlanta custom house. In making cigars we do not, like most of the New York and northern manufacturers, use machines, wooden moulds, or lead forms in which poorly paid and inexperienced workmen cram the tobacco in order to give shape to the cigars, and which necessarily detract, if they do not kill, the fine flavor of the tobacco. But we employ only the very best Cuban hand-cigarmakers, whom we pay good wages. Our (the Cuban) method of preparing the tobacco and making cigars is, unlike all other methods, simply perfect. There is, therefore, actually no difference between the cigars which we manufacture and the imported Havana. We do an extensive business throughout the south. And we can say that the leading business and professional men of Atlanta and the surrounning towns smoke our cigars, and they pronounce them equal to the imported Havana, We will sell this week a large lot of Key West cigars at $28 per thousand. These cigars are worth twice the amount. We keep on hand some of the very best Key West and also a select stock of mported Havana cigars, If you want a good smoke call or write to A. L. CUESTA,

NEW YORK STOCKS.

cks as Reported at the New York Stock Exchange.

NEW YORK, May 2.- The stock market today was again generally active and showed a strong front almost throughout, and later some advances in the list, with graugers in the lead. There was good buying for both foreign and demestic account, and Boston stocks especially were very prominent in the upward movement, and although the bears made a powerful demonstration against the list in the forenoon the impression made upon values was the forenoon the impression made upon values was only fractional. The opening was strong after the three days' holiday, and most of the stocks showed alvances over last Saturday's closing figures of from 34 to 34 per cent, while Atchison responded to the rise in Boston of the past two days with a gain of Aper cent. Interest in speculation was centered in western stocks, and Atchison, Northwestern and Burlington and Rock Island took the lead immediately. The early demand stimulated the list and opening gains were supplemented by further advances all over the list, and Pullman, which was selling ex-dividend, almost recovered its dividend in the first hour. Bears, however, resisted the advance with vigor, and making their attack more despecially upon Union Pacific and Reading, brought the list down fractionally from the best figures. The settlement of Burlington and Quincy for the ath of March, showing a gain of nearly $900,000 again stimulated buying, and under the lead of Burlington and other western shares material gains were made before noon. Even weak spots like Union Pacific and Chicago Gas recovered the losses of the first hour. In the afternoon the market be came less active, but the upward movement met with no setback though. except in coal stocks, which became feverish, and especially Lackawanna. Gains were for small fractions only. But lington, Louisville and Nashville and Missouri Pacific, however, were still very prominent. Western Union also came to the front on the rumor that a syndicate had offered to buy Mr. Gould's holdings, and Manhattan, Texas Pacific and Wabashes wer higher in sympathy. The rise culminated toward 2 o'clock, when some realizing caused a reaction of alight fractions from the highest figures, and beyond renewed activity in Burlington there was no feature of interest in final dealings. The close, however, was firm to strong, though quiet. The unlisted department was very quiet, and Brunswick is a shade lower at 20%. A great majority of the active shares are materially higher tonight, and Burlington rose 214. Manitoba 1%, Canada Pacific 1%. Rock Island slight fractions from the highest figures, and beyon Manitoba 1%, Canada Pacific 1%, Rock Island Missouri Pacific 114, Oregon Transcontinental Lackawanna 1 and others fractional amounts. es of stock aggregated 245,000 shares.

& Co.'s cotton circular on the market today says: Spot cotton in Liverpool was active at 6 3-16 for middling with sales of 15,000 bales. Futures showed midding with sales of 15,000 bales. Futures showed an advance since Monday of 6-64 to 76-4 in the early months with the late months 5-64 up. Our market was very active at the opening and the majority of the orders were to sell, consequently we did not meet the improvements in Liverpool, our first sales showing a gain of only 7 to 12 points in the early months. There was a show of strength shortly afterwards, however, and August contracts moved the property more while the earlier months were true. up 5 points more while the earlier mouths went up 1 to 2 points, but towards the end of the day there was heavy seiling again and prices receded 4 to 7 points, closing easy at an advance over Monday's close of 4 to 6 points in the early and 2 to 3 point JOHN S. ERNEST.

NEW ORLEANS, May 2-[Special.] - Glenny & Violett, in their cotton circular todsy, say: New York opening was quite disappointing and the ad-rance was much less than was established here yesterday and more because Liverpool had advanced several points since last Monday. At the opening, however, our market showed considerable strength and even sold higher than yesterday. However, New York became weak and was considerable sel ing of August. Here cotton was thrown overboard establishing a net decline of 6 to 7 points. All the apot markets are again firm today. Receipts at all ports today are $,690 against 6,200 same time last year. Spots here steady; sales 650; middlings 103

at a gain of five points from Monday's close. Our market will now closely watch Liverpool, and our fluctuations will be governed entirely by the course of foreign markets. The sellers today have been our strongest houses, and the trade evidently expects a reaction from this rapid advance.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Features of the Speculative Movement in Grain and Provisions. CHICAGO, May 2-The wheat market was weak and prices lower. July opened 1/201/40 lower and closed 1%c lower than yesterday, May closed 2%c and June 2% lower.

Corn ruled rather quiet the greater part of the session. The market opened a shade higher and closed 1/c higher than yesterday. Oats were moderately active, strong and higher, tuated considerably. Offerings were free and prices receded 15@17%c. Later a good demand prevailed and the market exhibited considerable strength with liberal buying by local operators and prices were advanced 30@321/c, but settled back b@7/cc and closed steady. A moderate trade was reported in lard and the mand improved and prices rallied 5@71/2c closing steady at outside figures.

An active trade was reported in short ribs, and prices receded 21/2@3c, later prices rallied 7/2/2010c

A NEGRO KILLED.

A SWITCH ENGINE RUNS OVER A DRAYMAN.

John Perdue, a Well Known Negro Teamster, Was Run Over and Killed, Last Evening, by a Western and Atlantic Switch Engine.

John Perdue was killed at Thurmond street crossing last night.

At a few minutes past eight o'clock Perdue came driving his dray down Marietta street at such a rate that Patrolman Phillips, who saw him, undertook to give him warning.

Before the officer had time to speak Perdue had passed him and turned into Thurmond street. The policeman thought that as he was off the public street, he would let him go on.

An empty freight car, being pushed forward by a Western and Atlantic switch engine. struck the dray, demolishing it and killing

The wheels of the dray were knocked all to pieces, and the car was thrown from the track. The mule was unhurt, but being frightened by the collision, ran off, and was found bleeding on the common near Simpson street, an hour afterwards. Perdue's body was thrown across the last but one of five tracks, and there was a pud-dle of blood around his head. It looked as if he was killed at once, and those who first arrived at the scene of the accident found him dead. His body was badly bruised and John Perdue was about grown, may son of the old man John Perdue, who was nee a well-known coal and wood dealer. John was running a dray of his own, and was the only support of a widowed mother.

The accident was due, it is believed, to Perdue's own hastness in trying to drive across the track when the engines were moving.

Vindicated From the Charge of Allowing Crouch to Escape.

Several days ago the following letter, signed by George Crouch, and which explains itself, was received and published in THE CONSTITU-by George Crouch, and which explains itself, was restricted and published in The ConstituTion:

I killed White, it's true, but, having friends, have succeeded in evading all punishment. When I was discovered in the Indiah mation, Bohaman arrested me, I told him of the reward for me, and we went halves in it. He brought me back to the county where I was wanted only as a pretext to get the moncy. I lay in Center jail some weeks for the excitement to blow over. Then my brother-in-law paid the sherilf and jailer to let me out. They paid 100. The bottom door was left open for me on purpose to eccape. There was no alarm given until it was known I was clear out of town. I was soon with the Medhees, my relatives, who armed and concealed me, but this was useless, as I had done paid the 3103 for liberty, which the jailer dare not deny. I beat my way over the Lookout mountain and took the train, being supplied with plenty of eash. I soon landed back in the nation, but not to my old haunts.

I care not who knows where I went, for ere this is known I will be in Mexico, where none dare venture after me. I write this to show that there is worse men than myself in office, and as citizens in Alabama. I am guilty of a bad crime, but there are officials in high places more guilty than I. At my first trial I was freed with very little trauble. The officers were also bought. Hence, seeing the departyly of mankind, I go to where man is known to be faithess—Mexico—for only a little there will make me sate. All the guards, police and detectives cannot move an outlaw from a band of greasers. Publish this in my defense, as I have been shown up some who pretends to be somebody. Something Astounding About Crime, if Tue, and Should be In vestigated.

Is crime on the increase?
This question has been agitating the public mind for some time; the expression of opinion have been varied, but a preponderance of evidence goes to show that it is increasing. What is the cause of this increase, the same may be said of this. Many causes are assigned, but few will admit that in the progress and enlightenment of this age that we are taking a backward step in anything; but figures are against us, and "figures will not lie." A still graver question for us to consider, is disease increasing? If so, how can we prevent it? From the most reliable information we conclude that disease is rapidly on the increase. The causes of same are as varied as diseases themselves. Among the most prolific in results is our excessive eating and drinking, and our neglect of disease in its carlier stages, leaving it alone until our systems fail to longer stand the extra strain placed upon it. Nothing can be truer than this. "Outraged nature always demands a penalty."

You may be a sufferer from piles or some other disease of the lower bowel that you consider sligh and therefore neglect, but the time will come when it will be a grave matter with you, producing effects disastrous to your physical and mental health. Is is not best for you to attend to this early for it will cost you less in suffering and fiancia ally, and it can cure you without the semblance of pain and without loss of time. Can you afford to procrastinate and take the risk? I can and will prove to you what I say if you will give me a chance. Call and see me, or write for further information. I will be glad to aid you.

A Large Importation of Havana Cigars by Harralson Bros. - They Are All the Go

A few days ago Harralson Bros. & Co. received a large importation of Havana cigars. They are something far above the ordinary. It takes a No. 1 cigar to please the taste of Ailanta people. Haraison fires, have it, and all you have to do to be convinced is to go round to their store on Pryor street and get one of their Havana cigars, the best in the world, and it is strange that a man who is in the world, and it is strange that a man who is able to smoke a good cigar will go and take two for a nickel. Another thing, Haraison Pros. keep no old stock on hand. They receive Importations from Havana every week, and thus their customers can be supplied with new frosh goods. What is the matter with you to day? If you are well or sick, smoke these fine Havanas. They will do you good.

better known Mailliard's, or Delmonico's, you never had a cream that will better please. In fact, we have a guarantee of its superiority and ask your judgment after trial. Great improvements have been made in the handling and manufacture of this fee cream since its first introduction in this city, and we expect great results from this addition. We will make no new departure in the delivery, and conform to the same system as used in the delivery last season. We are hard workers at our store and

We hope the public who have so generously sustained us and responded to our many advertisements, will kindly indu ge us and appreciate the motive that prompts this action. We appreciate wealth, and know full well its potency, but if thorough application to business six days in the week will not yield to us our share of this world's goods, then we must do without it. We are not independent of the public; indeed, we are dependent, and kindly ask that those who know this lee Gream and want it, will please bear with us and get their order in before 6 o'clock each Saturday evening. We will and can pack it so that it will keep firm and hard in before 6 o'clock each Saturday evening. We will and can pack it so that it will keep firm and hard until after dinner Sunday, all that might be expected if delivered on Sunday morning. With this explanation, the ladies and public generally, we state again that on May 1st we will be ready to deliver Ice Cream.

Stopped Taking Morphine.

CHARLESTON, S. C., April 16, 1893

DEAR SIR—With much pleasure I am happy to say I am a well woman today, and have gained 37 pounds since I stopped taking morphine. After taking the first dose of your medicine did not want any more morphine, and my friends who saw me a month before I started to taking your medicine do not know me. You have made me a well and hearty woman, and I hope God will bless you and that you may cure all afflicted, for when a woman gets into the habit she had as well be dead. When I left Cedar Keys and came here, and when your medicine gave out I was all right, I wanted to wait and see if I would remain so. Doctor, you can use my name if you wish. I was taking six grains morphine a day. Your obedient servant and sincere friend,

MANY ANXIOUS EYES have looked upon this property in the past and yearned for a piece of it, and right well they might, for it is exceedingly valuable for either residence or business purposes. This is the choicest I are piece of real estate upon the market, so near the center of the city. Street cars, paved streets, gas and water right at it. The opening and paving of Edgewood avenue will attract the rich and fashiotable to live upon it, thus canaucing all the property in the fourth ward. Now is the time to buy if you want the benefit of low prices. Easy money causes prices to rule higher. Buy one while it is cheap and in your reach. These lots are just north of the new state capitol, convenient to the union depot, Kimball and Markham houses, churches and schools. Consider your interest and buy one of these lots. In a few years you can double your money. Just consider how steadily real estate has advanced annually, and yet Atlant is only in her minancy. GEORGE WINSHIP, ap28 til may7 8p

GO SEE ATLANTA WIN: THE CRACKER TEAM DOES UP THE

MEMPHIS BOYS. A Great Game Out at Athletic Park-The Chattanoogas Defeated and Kicking-Birmingham Defeated Again.

Chattanooga is kicking like a Georgia mule. When the season opened the Chattanoogas were at home to the Memphis team and won three out of the four games. Then she took our straights from Birmingham.
This gave the town the big head.

Because the home team had beaten two clubs the cranks began to see the pennant floating in the Tennessee breezes and forgot that there was such a thing as defeat.

But New Orleans has shown them the other side of life. Tuesday the Pelicans went upon the Chattanooga grounds, and the Chattanooga boys were there, smiling and confident of success. But they lost.

Yesterday they lost again, and then they began to kick. Now they say New Orleans has gone over the salary limit. May be New Orleans has.

New Orleans came to Atlanta once, and Atlanta did not know what defeat was, The visitors went away carrying three victories Atlanta did not kick. She took Manager

Powell's word for the price of his team, and sent them away, saying: "They are good ball players and gentlemen."

Chattanoogs, quit kicking and play ball!

Henry Kuhrt and Sandy Cohen sat upon ront seats in the grand stand yesterday, play-ng with a small hatchet. Harry Spillman sat just behind them, toyng with his voice.

Walter Venable, Ben Goldsmith, Speer Smith, Billy Cannon and other members of the association, were arrayed around the leaders enjoying the drubbing Atlanta gave Mem-

And it was a drubbing.

The game was the most interesting Atlanta has had this season, and everybody upon the grounds enjoyed, while every one who did not go out missed a great treat.

The playing was good but the fun was bet-

Sterling went to bat first, and as he touched the plate with his stick Sandy Cohen cut a chip out of the grand stand with his hatchet. Sterling tried to cut a chip out of the ball with his bat but failed. Then he stood still until Smith, the Memphis pitcher, chipped his own record by giving the batter a base on a clean hit.

'Yi, yi," yelled Harry Spellman as Sterling stood at first, with Shea at the bat.
'Yi, yi," echoed Alf Casson from the bleaching boards.
"Yap," went Shea's bat against the ball for a clean hit.

"There now!" squealed the crowd in a chorus, as the ball twisted through the air and Sterling trotted to third.

"That's a run, sure, or I'll never put up my Pompil show in Atlanta," yelled Sandy Cohen, swinging the partnership hatchet over Speer Smith's head.

And it was a run.

And it was a run.

Hoeneman went out on a foul fly to Cassady and Alf. Casson groaned.

Kinsley did the same to O'Rourke and the crowd groaned. It began to look like Sterling would die on third.

Pender came up with his cap cut open behind, as though his head was too large.

"Hit that ball, Pender," said Ben Goldsmith, "and I'll give you a cap big enough."

Pender got his base on balls and Sterling stole home, while Smith was realizing that he had chipped another chip from his record.

The gang yelled as the little left flelder crossed the plate.

Dugan, the visiting second baseman got mad and walking up to the umpire, began to kick.

"Who is that?" asked someone.

'Who is that?'' asked someone.

"That?" asked someone.
"That?" bugan, the captain," was answered.
"Well, how do you do, Mr. Dugan," sang out the association in concert.
Mr. Dugan went back to his base.
With one run and three men out, the Atlantas went to the field showing Quinn, the new first baseman, in Cline's place.

His appearance pleased the crowd.

McBride got his first on balls, and the crowd became quiet. Broderick made a clean hit, and McBride went to second. Dugan came up and the gang crist.

up and the gang cried:
"There now, Dugan!" Dugan got his base on balls, sending Brod-erick to second. With the bases full Cassady erick to second. With the bases full Cassady struck out and Harry Spillman yelled: "Bring in another horse!" Kelly trotted up to the plate in response to the call, and rapped the ball for a clean single. That single let McBride and Broderick across the plate and in the play Dugan got to third.

"Oh, my!" sang the crowd dejectedly.

Then a wild pitch let Dugan in and as he crossed the plate Riddle yelled out:

"I golly, that's three!"

"Hang me, if it ain't three," said Henry

Kuhrt, examining his score card. The grandstand heard the remark and laughed.
Sandy Cohen took another chip ont with his hatchet.

Then there was a silence. In the second the Atlantas sent two men across the plate.
That tied the score and the silence was

The visitors added another in their half and no one but Dugan had a word to say.

But he said enough for everybody.

In the fourth the Atlantas added four and the crowd went wild.

Henry Kuhrt and Sandy Cohen cut a hole in the graud stand.

Harry Spilman squealed one through his throat.

The times of Schmeltz, Cahill, Bittman, Purcell and Cline came back. One yell after another came up so fast that a start and an end could not be detected. The home boys were cheered lustily and the visitors guyed were cheered lustry and the visitors guyed unmercifully.

But it was all done good humoredly.

The Memphis boys enjoyed it, and the Atlantas caught on quickly and played ball. They danced, yelled and coached, and everybody was pleased. Dugan, who was guyed more than any one else, made warm friends by his conduct. Once when the crowd was giving him a stiff deal he stopped, and diving into a pocket, pulled out something which he held up to the grand stand.

It was a rephit's feet

It was a rabbit's foot.
The grand stand yelled, and Dugan laughed.

Charges Against New Orleans. Charges Against New Orleans
Chartanooda, Tepn., Yay-2.—[Special.]—
A large sensation has been created here in baseball circles over the announcement that the New Orleans players are receiving $2,000 per month instead of the limit $1,200, and this report, true or false, is going to hurt the attendance at the ball park when New Orleans plays here. The game this afternoon clearly demonstrated the fact that it is useless for any southern league team to play against the New Orleans club and expect to win. and this fact will have a damaging effect in the attendance in smaller league cities. Manager Wayne complains that President Wharton, has persi-tently declined to send New Orleans' bond and affidavit of salary list. A purse was made up this afternoon to pay the New Orleans guarantee money for tomorrow's zome and for cit it to the New Orleans without playing, but it was finally declided to play the game and settle the trouble afterward. The game this atternoon was a good contest up to the seventh huning, when the New Orleans players forgot themselves and batter Prendergrast all over the field, making seven runs in the seventh inning.

ON THE TURF.

Opening Day of the Spring Meeting in Nash-ville—Races Elsewhere.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., May 2.—The inaugural day of the spring meeting at West Side park today proved more than a realization of the fondest hope proved more than a realization of the fondest hopes of the management. The crowd was variously estimated at from 8,000 to 10,000. The weather was glorious, the track fine, and the racing excellent. The event of the day, of course, was the two thousand dollar sweepstakes, and when the great son of Luke Blackburn came past the grand stand a shout went up from the multitude which thoroughly attested his great popularity. The race was given to his companion, Come-to-Taw, to prevent the former being paralyzed, but it is generally believed by horsemen that Knott could have made the distance in the neighborhood of 2.06 had he been given his head.

PRESIDENT DIAZ

Will Come to the Picamont Exposition, if a Certain Programme is Carried Out. It was decided some time ago that President Diaz, of Mexico, should be invited to the Piedmont exposition this fall. The directors say they will have more and bigger attractions this year than ever before. They have already invited Mr. Harrison, and have his promise to attend, and no doubt it will be his wish to meet the president of the Mexican republic. Thousands of people will be drawn to the city to see the two presidents. The directors are rapidly getting everything in shape, and by the time the gates are opened everything will be just as ordered, Ample arrangements will be made to take rdered, Ample arrangements will be made to take ordered, ample arrangements will be made to take care of the crowds. The privileges will be let in the next few weeks. The cigar privilege will no doubt bring a good price, when it is remembered that the one who secures it will sell Harraison Bros' fine imported. Havana cigars. It is indeed a privilege to sell these fine goods at any time. Harralson Bros. say they receive a direct importation of these cigars every week. Yesterday their men were busy all day opening up these goods.

They are making a specialty of the following brands, between which there is hardly a choice, all being the fluest goods that can be bought in Cuba: The H. Upman Conchas, Especiales; Beile De Atlanta, Couchas; Belle De Atlanta, Regalifa Reina Extras; Belle De Atlanta, Refina De Atlanta, Reina Victoria.
